CONTINUING COMPETENCY

If I haven't satisfied all my continuing competency requirements in time for renewal, what can I do?

If you are unable to comply with the continuing competency requirements by the time of renewal, you may renew your license in inactive status. Renewing your license in inactive status does not require completion of continuing competency requirements, but you are not permitted to work. Upon completion of the continuing competency requirements, you may request that your license status be changed to active status by submitting the Inactive to Active License Status application.

In no case shall you certify on your renewal that you comply with the continuing competency requirements and renew your license in active status if you did not comply with the continuing competency requirements. When completing your renewal, you are certifying under penalty of perjury that the information is true and correct, so you do not want to certify false information.

The result of failing to comply with the continuing competency requirements is dependent upon the audit case; each case is individually assessed to consider the specific circumstances of the situation. There is a wide range of action the Physical Therapy Board of California may take for noncompliance; however, the board's primary goal is to educate on and facilitate compliance with the continuing competency requirements. Continuing competency is a preventative consumer protection measure; therefore, the board would like compliance rather than an enforcement action whenever possible.

Here are two examples of the range of action and how each situation may be approached: (1) If you certify you comply, but the board determines in an audit that you do not, it may provide you with an opportunity to fulfill the identified deficiencies and come into compliance. (2) Situations such as not responding to board audit requests or failure to complete any continuing competency will likely be referred for enforcement action.

To ensure you comply with the continuing competency requirements, visit www.ptbc.ca.gov/licensees/cont\_comp.shtml.

Do we have your email address?

As of January 1, 2014, licensees are required to provide the Physical Therapy Board of California with an email address, if the licensee has one. Email notifications are an efficient way to share information between the board and its applicants and licensees.

Using email, the board can rapidly communicate regarding the status of applications, renewals, and requests for various board services; provide law and regulation updates; and disseminate important board news directly to each applicant and licensee—from the board to your email inbox. It doesn't get much easier!

Also, when using the Department of Consumer Affairs' BreZE online services system, email is the standard method of communication. You can submit your email address through BreZE (www.breeze.ca.gov) or the Request for Address Change form, which can be downloaded at www.ptbc.ca.gov/forms/index.shtml. You may also submit your email address in writing to the board—please include your name and license number. The board's address is 2005 Evergreen St., Suite 1350, Sacramento, CA, 95815.
